Hog Breeders Resume Pelletized Feedings

Post-War Availability Of Dairy Products Helps

Many hog breeders have reluctantly decided to sell their milk and dairy by-products from their hog rations in favor of cash.

Although farmers for generations have recognized the values of milk products in hog feeding, several factors have frequently influenced them to forget or ignore those values.

But now that dairy by-products can be adapted to self-feeder and labor - saving feeding programs through pelletizing of the products, they are again returning to their traditional place in more and more hog rations.

This is indicated in a summary of 1949 state fair results across the midwest hog belt, which seems to re-emphasize the feeding value of milk by-products and points up the fact that they can be fitted into self-feeder programs.

The summary, prepared by Kraft foods company, shows a total of 72 championship prizes and 70 first prizes won at six big state fairs and the national barrow show by hogs fed a pelletized dairy product in their rations.

Rats Blamed for Spread Of Mesquite in Arizona

Desert rats that gather reserve feed, store it in shallow caches, and leave many of these undisturbed, are practically planters of the stored seed. This is one of the important causes of the rapid invasion of grassy range lands by mesquite shrubs.

Mesquite, says the U.S. department of agriculture, displaces forage grasses and reduces the beef and wool production. In areas in Arizona the number of mesquite shrubs to the acre have increased about 50 per cent in the past 15 years, according to a U.S. forest service report.

The Merriam Kangaroo rat is a small rodent that lives in the arid areas of the southwest. They are quite as one of its favorite foods.

Highest Scorer

Shirley Mae Cooper, 18, of Baton Rouge, La., was highest scorer in individual judging at the invitational interstate 4-H poultry judging contest at the National Farm Show in Chicago. Miss Cooper, who had a total of 1,100 points, is shown with the prize-winning cockerel awarded her as first prize.

Undulant Fever Must Be Wiped Out in Animals

The only known way to eliminate undulant fever in man is to eradicate the disease in domestic animals, according to W. W. Spink, professor of veterinary medicine at the University of Minnesota.

Prevention of undulant fever, or brucellosis, in man requires the pasteurization of all milk used for human consumption, Spink says. There is no way, he says, of prevention by immunizing.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, it has pleased God in His All-wise Providence to call to his reward on Janv. 27, 1950, his servant, John Lloyd Lewis, who was for a long number of years, a consecrated member and faithful Steward of Memorial Methodist Church, and

Whereas, in his death, Memorial Church has lost one of its most devout and faithful members, and the Board of Stewards one of its most influencial and trusted leaders, and

Whereas, by his friendly spirit, his wise counsel, and conscientious performance of duty in every walk of life, he endeared himself to, and won the esteem and respect of all who knew him.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Board of Stewards of Memorial Methodist Church:

First: That it mourns the loss of a faithful and devoted member and official life has been an inspiration to all.

Second: That we bow in humble submission to the Will of our Heavenly Father, who doeth all things well.

Third: That we extend to the members of his bereaved family our sincere sympathy, and pray that God will sustain and comfort them in their sorrow.

Fourth: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of Memorial Church, a copy sent to the bereaved family and a copy published in our local Newspaper.

—Respectfully: C. W. Smith, Mrs. S. L. Ferguson, T. W. Moses, Mary B. Murphy, J. A. Martin, Committee.

Southeast Asia Still Fabled Land For Many Tourists

SINGAPORE — The fabled lands of southeast Asia still are a tourist's dream of strange sounds and scents of intrigue and tropical fevers, of opium dens and beauty.

The incense of other ages some time is choked with the tang of gunpowder, the clang of ancient gongs mingled with the boom of bombs, and the intrigue smacks of treachery. Fortunately, however, the beauty remains.

No disease of body or mind could ever strip the last City of Angkor of its awesome wonder; Bali of its peaceful sleep in the bosom of the past; Bangkok of its purple fantasy; Burma of its templed glories, or stolid Sir Stamford Raffles in bronze of his unruffled Singapore calm.

Notice To Taxpayer and Citizens of Appomattox County

The Board of Supervisors of the County School Board is a difficult problem in securing sufficient funds to construct adequate building for the colored people at Appomattox, this matter has been badly needed for some time, mainly to a fire which occurred several years ago.

As the result of an Act of the Legislature of Virginia which passed on February 6, Act, will receive approximately $250,000 from the State which may be used for the construction of the school. This, however, is conditional being enough to construct the building according to the architect's estimates of the cost.

This money may be received from the State Literary Fund over a period of thirty years, which would cost the county about $8,350.00 a year to pay. It is believed that this could be carried and retired without increase in taxes based on the present county income.

It is also probable that the Battle will recommend an appropriation of fifteen million a year for the next two years for school construction, which Appomattox County would receive an additional $150,000 which would be enough to pay the loan within four years from now. It is possible, of course, that this may not happen.

These are the matters that we would like to discuss with you, and therefore the Board of Supervisors has called a mass meeting of the taxpayers and citizens of Appomattox County to be held at the Court House at Appomattox at 11 o'clock A. M., Wednesday, February 22. It is hoped and urged that there will be a large attendance so that a full and frank discussion may be received from the people.

1950 Census Of Agriculture Planned

The 1950 Census of Agriculture questionnaire, to which farmers of Appomattox County will supply answers in April, 1950, will list more than 50 field, truck and orchard crops. However, no one farmer will be required to answer inquiries for all of the crops listed. Usually, an individual farmer will need to report only four or five crops.

It is pointed out by R. B. Hudgins, County Agricultural Agent, that while the Census Bureau's questionnaire provides for reporting each kind of crop produced in this section of the county in 1949, only a small proportion of the crop section of the questionnaire will apply to any one farm. The same is true for inquiries on livestock, livestock production, poultry and poultry production, and dairy products.

Under a procedure adopted by the Bureau of the Census, the 1950 Agriculture questionnaire varies for each state or group of states. Inquiries on crops and on classes of livestock and other farm products are limited to those crops common to each state or group of states. Thus the questionnaire used in a northern state would not include inquiries about cotton or citrus fruit production, nor will a form used in a southern state have questions about maple syrup.

The questionnaire will provide for reporting the acreage of vegetables harvested for sale and the dollar value of vegetables sold. A list of about a dozen different vegetable crops in included on the questionnaire. However, all vegetables harvested for sale must be reported.

The value of vegetables produced on farms for home use or sale in 1944 exceeded a billion dollars for the first time in Census history, according to totals compiled by the United States Bureau of Census from farmers' reports for the 1945 Census of Agriculture.Approximately 575,000 farms produced vegetables for sale in 1944.

Farmers will also be asked to report the number of various kinds of fruit trees and grape vines on their farms and the quantity of fruit produced in 1949. Number of fruit trees and grape vines not bearing age are to be reported separately from those of non-bearing age.

The acres and production of berries and other small fruits harvested for sale in 1949 are to be reported on the questionnaire.

Richwood

Richwood, Feb. 8.- Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sarver and family spent Sunday in Lynchburg visiting Mrs. Sarver's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sarver and family were dinner guests of Mrs. Harry Goin Saturday.

FISHER MEMORIAL DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Fisher Memorial Baptist Church at Concord burned to the ground late Sunday afternoon, with a loss estimated at $12,000.

The Bible on the pulpit, a new Hammond organ, and a considerable amount of the furnishings were saved.

Two fire engines from Lynchburg made the trip to Concord, but lack of water hampered their efforts.

The Rev. G. E. Hughes is pastor of Fisher Memorial. Another of his churches, Red Oak, recently occupied a new building erected to replace one lost by fire.

The church half-century old Baptist church was named for the late Dr. Frank Fisher, Baptist minister who founded it in 1900.

Some $2,000 had recently been spent for improvements at the Concord church. Now plans are already taking shape for rebuilding.
